

Case1 Ipha-P的心理攻势，和Sa的心态变化

概况：Ipha威胁吊销他的执照（切断经济来源），对他实施强制精神评估（可能会重新被关起来），并且顺带调查Ulises（这下他不仅欠Ulises，还可能让Ulises丢工作）。每一个都是对他的巨大冲击，所有的都生死攸关。危机一个又一个渐进式冲击他的大脑。

但是真的让他理智的弦绷断的是Ipha-p提出如果Ulises被发现是由于贿赂/故意为之，Ulises也有可能被定罪。这属于是把Sa所有的最深的恐惧都团成了一个球，他不仅搞砸了自己的人生，现在还要搞砸别人的了。所以他彻底爆了。

a traumatized, kinetic brain processes cascading threats. It's not a slow build of sadness; it's a cognitive traffic jam. His hardware is being hit with fatal error codes in rapid succession, and it literally crashes his system.

Here is why this "override after override" logic is a brilliant way to write his internal state:

The Override Chain

1. Threat 1: The License. Ipha-P threatens to pull the PI license. Sa's brain registers the immediate loss of income, premium oxygen, and the ability to maintain his heart. Threat level: Severe.
2. Threat 2: The Assessment. Ipha-P mentions the shrink and the evaluation. The memory of the asylum instantly overwrites the fear of losing money. The primal terror of the padded room, the chemical restraints, and the paralysis completely hijacks his nervous system. Threat level: Catastrophic.
3. Threat 3: Ulises. Ipha-P casually mentions dragging the doctor into the investigation. This overrides the primal terror with sheer, unbearable guilt. It's the one thing he can't outrun or punch his way out of. Threat level: System Failure.

The Freeze

The freeze isn't him calculating a master plan, and it isn't him giving up. It is a literal biological bottleneck. His TBI-damaged brain cannot process three simultaneous existential threats at once. The engine floods. He physically locks up because his nervous system doesn't know which threat to attack first.

The Disconnect and the Final Straw

While Sa is locked in this internal hell, he manages to force out one question to find the bottom of the threat: "What will happen to Ulises?"

Ipha-P replies with bureaucratic indifference: "He gets unemployed. He loses his practice."

This is the spark that detonates the engine.

To a corporate operator like Ipha-P, "unemployment" is just a change in tax brackets—a slap on the wrist. But Sa lives on the ground. Sa knows exactly what unemployment means in a city where you pay for your own oxygen. Unemployment means Ulises defaults on his Atmos-tax. It means being pushed down into the Sump. It means slow, agonizing suffocation and the erasure of his life.

The sheer, arrogant casualness of Ipha-P tossing a man's life away like a clerical error breaks Sa out of the freeze. The system reboots, bypassing panic and defaulting directly to pure, kinetic violence.

Ipha-p 先轻描淡写：

Ipha-p:

“关联医师 Ulises 将被纳入调查。”

Sa 立刻卡住。

Sa:

“他跟这事没关系。”

Ipha-p:

“他的签字出现在你的药物豁免、辅心维护申请与风险等级下调表上。”

Sa 的表情变了。

Sa:

“会怎么样？ ”

Ipha-p:

“通常结果是执业暂停。”

Sa 还没爆。

他在强迫自己确认底线。

Sa:

“通常？ ”

Ipha-p 继续：

lpha-p:

“若确认其收受利益、故意误报，或协助你规避强制收容程序，他将移交刑事部门。”
